Hopes Grow For Unity In Laos Capital

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Hope rose in the tense Laotian capital today that rival rightist military factions may patch up a feud which could topple the shaky power structure in Laos.

Informants say a key man in the situation is Gen. Siho Lamphoutacoul, who commands all police in the Vientiane area. Siho, they say, is not willing at present to join either faction and is concentrating on guarding the security of Vientiane.

All that is known for sure is that the army was put on alert Tuesday.

Train Injures Child

Michigan Girl, 9, Risks Life To Rescue Pet Dogs

BELDING, Mich. (AP) — "The train whistle blew, and before we knew it Lorri was diving toward the tracks, trying to save her dogs. All we could do was just stand there and watch."

Mrs. Donald Campbell was "still in a state of shock" today as she recalled how her 9-year-old daughter risked her life in an effort to save her pet Dachshunds.

Lorri, a slender, blue-eyed blonde who says she wants "to go to college to learn to be a veterinarian," suffered a broken collarbone and minor cuts and bruises in the rescue attempt Wednesday. One of the dogs was saved. The other died under the train wheels.

"I heard Lorri screaming, and I started running, but she did, too, and before I could get out of the yard, Lorri was right next to the train. Somehow, she dove to the other side of the tracks just before the train passed," Mrs. Campbell said.

At the hospital authorities said Lorri was "doing fine."

House Plans Approval Of Poverty Bill

Final Vote Delayed By Opponents After Administration Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House pushed President Johnson's antipoverty bill to the verge of passage Friday night but was forced by a technicality to delay a final vote until today.

After a 228-190 preliminary vote all but sealed a stunning victory for Johnson, opponents demanded a printed copy of the bill, including amendments adopted only minutes earlier.

Such a demand can always be made, but rarely is. Sometimes the houses recesses until a copy can be provided. This time it decided to wait until today.

The House almost never meets on Saturday and members are accustomed to long weekends off.

The Democrats were short of members at one point Friday and opponents of the high priority administration bill almost succeeded in a bold maneuver to kill it.

Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., offered a motion to "strike the enacting clause" — in effect, kill the bill. Republicans, who had been waiting outside the chamber, rushed in and combined with Southern Democrats, succeeded in carrying the Smith motion by a 170-135 non-record vote.

Youths Hired In New York Poverty Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City has found summer jobs on its own payroll for 200 teen-agers from its racially troubled slum neighborhoods. Eight hundred more are to get jobs next week.

The goal is to get the youths off the streets, give them job experience and fight poverty with paychecks.

Recruiting centers report that hundreds of disappointed youths have been turned away daily. The emergency program, financed by the city's Antipoverty Fund, is geared for 1,000 youths this summer.

The first 200 were placed Friday but only 26 of them went on the payroll immediately—24 as weed cutters along city streets and two, both girls, as clerks.

The 26 Negroes and Puerto Ricans got a pep talk from City Highways Commissioner John T. Carroll, who told them: "I don't want you to think weeding is an unnecessary or menial job."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the program a week ago as part of his antipoverty program to meet the needs of Negroes and Puerto Ricans in Harlem and Brooklyn.

Both sections were torn by racial rioting and looting last month.

No Major Red Moves

Viet War Spread Called Less Likely For Present

WASHINGTON (AP) — High U.S. authorities said today chances of a major expansion of the Vietnamese war appear to be lessening.

They reported that there had been no sign, so far, of mass troop movements in Communist China or North Viet Nam. And they said there had been no evidence that Communist sea forces or planes were hunting targets.

President Johnson had near-unanimous support from Congress to employ a flexible military response if necessary to meet any new Communist thrust in Southeast Asia.

By votes of 414 to 0 and 88 to 2, respectively, the House and Senate Friday approved a joint resolution that "approves and supports" Johnson's determination "to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

South Viet Nam, focal point of the anti-Communist struggle in Southeast Asia, remained under virtual martial law, imposed Friday by Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Redeployment of beefed-up U.S. strength in the South Pacific continued. A squadron of supersonic jet fighters, newly arrived from the United States, stopped briefly in Hawaii, then headed for the Western Pacific and Southeast Asia.

At the United Nations the Security Council invited both North and South Viet Nam to take part in debate on the situation in Southeast Asia.

While optimistic that the situation would continue to ease, U.S. officials did not rule out the possibility that it might take the communists a while to deploy their forces if they planned a major move.

The feeling here was that the North Vietnamese had been taken by surprise when U.S. planes bombed four torpedo bases and an oil refinery Wednesday as retaliation for Communist attacks on two U.S. destroyers.

The resolution passed by Congress had been requested by Johnson to show bipartisan support for his Viet Nam stance.

Viet May Be Made Issue By Goldwater

Candidate Declares Asia Policy Change Could Mean Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has told Republican congressional candidates that foreign policy — and Viet Nam — will be the major campaign issue if President Johnson backs off from his Southeast Asia stand.

Newsweek was barred from Friday night's meeting in a hotel banquet room, but reporters outside the door heard the GOP's presidential nominee say of Johnson:

"If he doesn't continue what he has started to do, then I can assure him that not only Viet Nam but all of his foreign policy is going to be the major issue of the campaign."

Goldwater noted that some of his political foes have accused him of being "trigger happy."

But the Arizona conservative, according to a Republican who heard the speech, said a decision to order naval air strikes against North Viet Nam's PT boat fleet would neutralize that charge.

"The Republican party has not led this country into a war this century. We are the party of peace," the senator was heard to say.

Republicans have always preserved the peace, he said, because they understand the use of power.

Newsweek was able to hear only part of Goldwater's remarks before the house detective ordered them away.

Slips Found In Car

Federal Agents 'Hit' In Numbers

A flourishing "numbers" business between East Liverpool and Canton was uncovered Friday afternoon when federal agents seized the auto of a Stark County resident in Lisbon while he was allegedly transporting a quantity of slips.

INTERNAL Revenue agents seized the 1963 Oldsmobile owned and driven by Donald Poulos, 38, of Canton under a little-known federal law which permits confiscation of vehicles in which wagering slips are transported, Elmer Stapleton, assistant chief of the intelligence division in the Cleveland district IRS office, said.

Poulos was not held, the spokesman said, explaining that the federal law requiring $50 gambling stamps applies only to those who actually accept bets and does not cover alleged pickup men.

The car was taken to Youngstown pending forfeiture proceedings in Federal District Court.

THE TREASURY agent said a stack of "slips" measuring about six inches thick was found in the auto. He did not indicate whether the "slips" were being transported to or from East Liverpool but other sources said "numbers" slips have been collected in East Liverpool and taken to Canton for several years.

Poulos was seized as he turned off Route 30 onto E. Washington St., a shortcut used by many motorists to bypass traffic on Lincoln Way.

Stapleton said the car had

Widow Dies At 98

Death Takes Kennedy's Grandmother At Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, grandmother of the late President John F. Kennedy, died today. She was 98.

The widow of a onetime Boston mayor, she watched the inauguration and other major events in the career of President Kennedy on television.

On election day in 1960 she was recovering from illness but followed the results on TV. She said then of the newly-elected President: "I did all I could for him with prayer; he'll be a wonderful president because he is a wonderful man."

President Kennedy visited his grandmother in 1962 when he came to Boston to vote.

In mid-summer of 1963 she happily posed for news photographers amid a family group that included 10 of her 39 great-grandchildren.

On her 97th birthday — Oct. 31, 1962—she attended Mass at the home of her son, Thomas A. Fitzgerald. Her nephew, the Rev. John F. Fitzgerald, celebrated the Mass, and the President's mother, Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, visited her.

The former Josephine Mary Hannon, she was born in Acton, Mass. She was married there in 1890.

Greeks Say Jets Strafed Port Village

Turks Deny Attack; Claim May Be Sent To U.N. For Study

BULLETIN

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The United Nations command in Nicosia said Turkish jet fighters made two separate strafing runs on Greek Cypriot positions around the embattled Turkish Cypriot village of Kokkina in northwest Cyprus.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Turkey asked today for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council to take up Greek Cypriot attacks on Turkish Cypriots.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish air force jets roared over Cyprus today in a second show of support for the embattled Turkish Cypriot minority, a Turkish Cypriot spokesman announced.

None of the planes apparently opened their guns as they swooped over the island's northwestern coast, scene of bitter fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots for the past three days. However, a Turkish Cypriot Spokesman said the aircraft had been ordered to "intervene when necessary."

The Cyprus dispute veered into another crisis stage Friday after Turkish jet fighters swept over Polis, a small port in northwest Cyprus.

The Greek Cypriot government said the jets had strafed the village, hitting an Italian cargo ship in the harbor. It said it would bring a charge of aggression against Turkey before the U.N. Security Council and ordered the 30,000-man Greek Cypriot national guard on a standby alert.

Turkey had emphatically denied that its planes had done any shooting Friday, but it promised they would be back today on a reconnaissance. If U.N. peacemaking efforts don't show any results, the Turkish government statement warned, Turkey might bomb the island to aid the Turkish Cypriot cause.

In Athens, Greek military leaders went into an emergency conference to consider the military implications of the new crisis.

Greek Defense Minister Peter Garoufalas warned that the "unjustified aerial attack" had created "a highly dangerous situation which might lead to war."

The Greek Cypriots said four American-made Supersabre jets had strafed Polis Harbor, hitting an Italian freighter which had just taken on a cargo of copper ore.

The freighter, St. George, radioed this message to the British-owned copper mines after the incident, a spokesman said: "Safe at 1930 (7:30 p.m.) after being machine-gunned. Crew safe."

The Italian embassy in Nicosia said the ship had been hit.

Gunfire continued in the rugged mountains and along the coast north of Nicosia and the Turkish Cypriots evacuated their women and children from villages in the area. About 200 Turkish Cypriots took refuge at an encampment of Swedish U.N. troops.

Since the fighting began in the rugged Tyleria Promontory Wednesday night, 12 Greek and two Turkish Cypriots have been killed and 15 Greek and 10 Turkish Cypriots wounded, according to unofficial estimates.

The United States has been struggling for months to prevent a clash over Cyprus between Greece and Turkey.

WORK WINDOW WONDERS

When the background for furnishings has already been established by up-to-date and interesting architectural detail, the interior designing of a room is a relatively simple matter. But if rooms are small, box-like and completely lacking in structural interest — as is often the case, then clever innovation is frequently called for.

Windows, or the lack of them, often tell a home's age. However, it is not always necessary to go to great remodeling expense to update old-fashioned windows and give them an exciting new look.

Wall space in the room sketched above was badly broken up by small, nondescript windows. The windows in the side walls (not shown) furnish cross ventilation. Three small windows in the visible wall have been given a novel up-to-date treatment by covering the wall from floor to ceiling with panels fashioned from

Concrete Ribbon To The Lake

One of these days in the foreseeable future, travel time between Ohio River ports at East Liverpool and Lake Erie docks at Ashtabula will be cut to 90 minutes or less—approximately half the time required at present.

Dedication of the outbound lanes of the new Freeway segment Monday afternoon will mark another milestone toward achieving that goal.

When the four-lane limited access highway is completed, possibly by 1969, it will offer a quick, direct route for transshipments between river vessels and lake ports.

It should produce a needed growth in transportation, storage and warehousing businesses in both East Liverpool and Ashtabula. And benefits will accrue to communities all along the Freeway's route through opening of a faster avenue for shipping in raw materials and sending finished products to market.

To the men who have watched the slow but steady construction of the new highway in short stages, it's known as the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway. On Highway Department maps, it's State Route 11.

By any name, it's a concrete ribbon of progress that will tie together two of the busiest waterways in the world — our own Ohio River and the neighboring Great Lakes.

Monday's program opening the two-mile segment to traffic should be especially gratifying to the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association, the four-county organization of civic leaders formed several years ago to encourage construction of the roadway.

East Liverpool has played a leading role in the association, as Atty. Francis H. Lang was charter president of the group and now serves on its Board of Directors, along with E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and A. P. Morris of Salem.

The next area stage of the lake-river road will extend from Substation to Route 287 at Apples Corners. In the interest of progress for all of Eastern Ohio, we hope construction will begin soon.

Stepping-Stone

Congratulations are in order for the latest group of youngsters to gain recognition during Columbiana County's annual 4-H Selection Day Friday night at Lisbon.

Through their achievements, they have demonstrated the ability to be the best in their field in the 4-H program. The time and effort expended in preparing the various projects point to future progress in other worthwhile endeavors.

Conscientious 4-H work is an excellent stepping-stone to even greater accomplishments.

The Theme Is Unity

A pressing question first asked after the Republican National Convention closed will become more pressing in the few weeks remaining before the national campaigns go into high gear in September.

Will Sen. Goldwater, the Republican nominee, unify his party for the big effort by moderating his position, or will he convince his critics inside the party that they must modify their positions?

Sen. Goldwater has talked to hundreds of Republicans since his nomination. He will talk next Wednesday to Republican governors at Hershey, Pa. Among them will be Gov. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Scranton of Pennsylvania. The governors will listen to the wisdom of former President Eisenhower and former Vice President Nixon.

The theme of the meeting will be "unity." This was the theme of Sen. Goldwater's recent meeting with Republican members of the U.S. House of Representatives. This will be the theme until Election Day.

UNITY is the Republican problem, more so this year than in recent years, because the Goldwater surge was brought about by conservative influence in the Republican party that stranded moderates and liberals and threatened to create a party chasm.

The threat was reaffirmed in Sen. Goldwater's acceptance speech when he said help would be welcome from those who agreed with his beliefs and not expected from anywhere else.

That sounded like a preemptory challenge to get on the bandwagon or get out of the parade.

But since then a note of moderation has been heard.

It is plain that Sen. Goldwater intends to win the 1964 race if it can be done and knows he must have a high degree of organization unity. This is why Ohio Republican Chairman Ray Bliss is going to serve as a campaign adviser. This is why Gov. Scranton will be host at the Hershey meeting, hard by former President Eisenhower's farm at Gettysburg.

THIS IS WHY Rep. William E. Miller, GOP vice presidential nominee, has taken second thought about an offhand com-

Uncontrollable

After high-prestige Republicans blasted my occupation at their party's national convention, I did some deep-dish thinking, along with thousands of others who work in communication.

We will remember for a long time the sight and sound of those angry Republican delegates and their sympathizers in the San Francisco Cow Palace roaring and shaking fists at the press gallery and television booths.

I have been told by people who had gallery passes for the duration of the convention that this demonstration came at the end of a long-burning fuse. My informants described the antics of one supercharged drowager who had been shaking her fist at Huntley and Brinkley throughout the convention.

When former President Eisenhower made his crack about "sensation-seeking columnists and commentators," he unleashed the pent-up fury of people like her, who had gone to the convention already mad at the whole communications industry.

Why?

THAT IS WHAT I have been thinking, about.

All of us in the communications industry learn early to expect the disapproval of everybody who disagrees with the way we do our job. That's par. Everybody is sure he could do the job better; i.e., more to his own liking.

What chills us is the outright opposition to the whole communications industry that creeps in occasionally — people who want to obliterate it.

Not that our occupation is sacrosanct; it can be wrecked. But to wreck it would mean wrecking the nation.

The communications industry is essential. Its freedom from restrictive law is essential. It must be free to do its job as it sees fit, because in no other way can the people be sure of having access to facts.

There will be facts some of them won't like. There will be opinions some of them will hate. But as long as freedom prevails, the truth will come out and opinion will have a chance to be heard.

IN THE ENTIRE range of enterprise, no occupational group has a higher sense of purpose and public service than people who report news and make judgments on current events. They are dedicated professionals. They aren't flawless, but who is.

This group compares favorably with the best of the ministry and the medical profession and is vastly superior to the law.

Instead of feeding the thoughtless animosity of people who instinctively try to destroy what they can't control, our leaders should be everlastingly thankful this vital element in the structure of freedom is uncontrollable.

If that changes, freedom will be phhhht.

Just Like In Jericho

Other Nations Have Problems, Too

By Victor Riesel

CAIRO, U.A.R.

I have just come out of equatorial and sub-Sahara Africa and have discovered that too many Americans, such as Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and writer James Baldwin, go into the same areas under official U.S. sponsorship and apologize for the U.S.

Victor Riesel

We have serious problems back home. But these don't call for the snide, arrogant, patronizing, often snarling questioning by African students and intellectuals and government officials after an American completes a speech at a university or club in the big African cities.

I was one of the few who talked back. I could. I was not sponsored by our government. I told African audiences we have problems, but so have they, indeed.

Africa is rife with slave systems, corruption, riots, police states, foul dungeons, political prisoners, and high living — for special castes, but not for the workers and peasants.

IN SENEGAL, for example, there is both a caste and a slave system — literally. Young children are sold into slavery up in the bush country. They are slaves in the full meaning of the word. They are owned by the family who buys them. They can marry only other slaves. Furthermore they can marry only those slaves owned by the caste which owns them. They cannot even marry a slave of a higher caste. And there are many castes just as in India. Rarely is there crossing of lines or intermarriage among the various strata of Senegalese society.

There are also the powerful Marabout "priests." For a fee these rulers of a big sect will sell special good luck tokens or write letters which supposedly will bring good fortune. The higher the fee, the better the fortune.

No one in Dakar, the capital city of Senegal, dares tamper with the slave and caste systems. Few in the government appear to care about the bush country people. Instead, many in the government are accumulating wealth.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

"It's some sort of national survey on family life! . . . They'd like to know what we're bickering about at the moment!"

the street when farm workers came in from the east. They were stoned and beaten by local city people.

Up in Ibadan the night mobs have been so tough the police have dispatched special anti-riot squads to keep peace. And in that city some 90 miles from Lagos, local officials pay $200 a month rent for homes in a countryside where workers and peasants are lucky if they earn $200 in cash in five years.

In Nigeria, too, there are castes, with traditions going back 700 to 800 years. In some areas, there are variations of a slave system. In some regions there are chiefs and absolute rulers. And there are district monarchs whom one approaches only on one's stomach.

THERE ARE rituals on the death of a chief so ghoulish I will not repeat them. Yet the bright young Nigerians do not go back into the interior to help their people and bring them into modernity. The intellectuals live spiritually only on the bad news from the U.S. It fills their radios, their newspapers and their TV.

In one section of West Africa I was asked why the U.S. is in South Viet Nam and West Berlin and why do we get "emotional" over Cuba. My questioners completely overlooked the fact that when Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda were recently threatened by revolts, they called on the British for troops. Why then should not the South Vietnamese call on us.

Furthermore, when the Tanganyika government began worshipping a government began worshipping about the political strength of the labor movement there, the Dar es Salaam officials simply arrested 250 union leaders and put them in prison. They're still there.

As for our being "emotional" over Cuba, the Africans get mighty "emotional" over any foreign power on or near their continent.

I hammered away at all these points. The audiences stopped snarling. They respected the thesis that we all have problems. They respected the truth.

'Brinkmanship' Tested

By David Lawrence

Johnson, Congress Show What It Means

President Johnson and the Congress of the United States have given the world a dramatic example of "Brinkmanship" that reflects the determination of the American people to use military force if necessary, to repel aggression.

The joint resolution authorizing David Lawrence the use of American naval, land and air forces in Southeast Asia to prevent further aggressive acts is exactly in line with the policies advocated by the late John Foster Dulles, secretary of state in the Eisenhower administration.

Yet the word "brinkmanship" has been associated with criticism of Mr. Dulles and has repeatedly been taken out of context to imply that those who support the Dulles idea are trigger-happy people bent upon starting a war.

In January, 1956, in an article published in Life magazine, Mr. Dulles was quoted as having said:

"You have to take chances for peace, just as you must take chances in war. Some say that we were brought to the verge of war. Of course we were brought to the verge of war."

"The ability to get to the verge without getting into the war is the necessary art. If you cannot master it, you inevitably get into war. If you try to run away from it, if you are scared to go to the brink, you are lost. We've had to look it square in the face — on the question of enlarging the Korean War, on the question of getting into the Indochina War, on the question of Formosa. We walked to the brink and we looked it in the face. We took strong action."

NATURALLY the above quotation attracted worldwide attention, and in a press conference on Jan. 17, 1956, Mr. Dulles said that the statement was not exactly a direct quotation, but he added:

"I have said the substance of that, I think, on a good many occasions: That I believe that peace if not won by seeming to retreat when an aggressor threatened; that it was important to make clear the fact that we were going to stand firm even though that might involve war. That is a sentiment which I have expressed a good many times over a great many years, and I think that this particular statement attributed to me, when read in the light of its context, is a fair reflection of my views."

Mr. Dulles said he wished, however, to clear up one point—that he had been "brought" to the verge of war, not by our own choice, but only by "threats which were uttered in relation to Korea, in relation to Indochina, and in relation to Formosa."

SEN. GOLDWATER a few weeks ago, in an interview published in a German newspaper, was quoted as having said:

"My ideas for a successful American foreign policy correspond generally to the policy of the Eisenhower government and Secretary of State Dulles. You must always show yourself ready to throw in everything if you want to be respected and you are fighting for peace."

He was then asked: "So, a policy of 'up to the brink of war' as Secretary of State Dulles long held to be correct?" His reply was:

"Yes; the only person who is respected is the one who clearly says — when necessary — that he is determined to go to extremes. That is a policy that your country and all successful countries have followed throughout the past thousand years."

The misuse of the word "brinkmanship" arises from the mistaken theory that the American government would deliberately create a crisis in order to rattle a sword or threaten another country. The true meaning of "brinkmanship" is a policy of readiness — a willingness to fight if necessary and to indicate clearly to the other repelled.

THE ERRONEOUS impression is often conveyed that efforts to solve disputes by peaceful means are a reflection of unwillingness to fight or a craven attitude. Secretary of State Rusk, in a television interview on July 26, said:

"Now the problem here is to make it very clear that the vital interests of the free world will be defended with whatever is necessary. But the problem also is to defend these by peaceful means if possible. . . . therefore we've got to act with prudence and sobriety and judgment, certain patience and persistence. . . ."

"Our problem at the present time is that Peiping is pursuing this world revolution dogma with a militancy that is threatening the peace, and our immediate problem is to bring Hanoi (North Viet Nam) and Peiping to the necessary decision to leave their neighbors alone before it is too late."

IT'S INTERESTING to recall that when President Eisenhower and both parties in Congress united on a resolution to authorize the use of military forces to protect Formosa, the Red Chinese took note of the action and discontinued their aggression. It's hoped that there will similarly be a cessation now of acts threats in Southeast Asia.

A Senseless Attack

By Don Oakley

The frightening thing about the crisis in Viet Nam is the seeming irrationality that precipitated it.

It's the same species of irrationality that in November 1962 sent hordes of Red Chinese troops against the frontier of neutral India, until then one of the Communist regime's best friends. It is hard to doubt that the order for the North Vietnamese attacks on American ships proceeded originally from Peking.

If the North Vietnamese had chosen to accelerate the ground war in Asia, this, though also a foreboding development, would have been at least understandable strategy.

reliance on brute force to awe their opponents.

WHAT IS credible, however, is that the Chinese are perfectly willing to escalate the Asian conflict right up to the point of general nuclear war—and beyond.

Mao Tse-tung has stated that China has little to lose—perhaps a few hundred million Chinese out of three-quarters of a billion—while its two great enemies, the United States and Russia, would destroy each other.

This is the trap—fantastic as it is to contemplate—that America must avoid in this crisis.

Problems At B.I.S.

By HARRY STEWART

The urgent need to improve conditions at the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster has been emphasized by Columbiana County Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin.

Tobin pointed out the citizens of this county should be concerned about the need at the school because several youths from the county are housed there.

A recent report by the state Youth Services Advisory Board termed the school as an "overcrowded, human warehouse that 'stores' delinquent youngsters because it lacks space, staff, and facilities necessary for rehabilitation."

Since January 1963, Columbiana County has sent 17 boys to the school. Of these, seven were repeaters and of these, three had been there twice before.

The current population at BIS is about 900. It was erected in 1867 to house 300.

Judge Tobin said more youths would be sent to BIS for rehabilitation if the terrible conditions did not exist. "The juveniles are not rehabilitated there now," he commented.

THE ADVISORY board, in its findings, recognized the fact that there are more delinquent children today simply because there are more children and more contributing social ills. But it also recognized that a "crash program" is needed immediately.

One of the first recommendations is that the population be reduced to a maximum of 700. It has been suggested this can be done by acquiring unoccupied federal state or school district buildings to handle the excess population.

Millions of dollars would be required to meet the recognized professional standards.

The board has urged the academic program be expanded. The present maximum academic capacity is 200 boys with 10 teachers. It is estimated there are at least 600 boys who could benefit from some type of training if it were made available.

The physical fitness and recreational programs also need to be expanded. This would eliminate the idleness that the advisory board found markedly prevalent.

The school has a swimming pool, but it has been dry for two years. It is in need of repairs. The board also suggested paved play areas around the cottages which could be utilized even in inclement weather.

THE BOYS AT THE school are in dire need of better medical care. There are no full time physicians, psychologists or guidance counsellors. A psychiatrist visits the school one day per week. Three are needed, the board claims.

A full time professional staff with adequate pay is a "must", the board reported, pointing out it is almost unbelievable that with over 900 boys in the residence the school does not have a physician on the premises.

The board said the pay and morale of those employed at the school is very low and the turnover in personnel is extremely high. When the investigating board made its report there were 14 positions vacant.

Vocational programming facilities are practically nil, and those in use are very inadequate.

DAIRY PRODUCTION at the school reportedly saves $80,000 annually and the milking is all done by hand, which reduces production about one-fourth. The board said milking machines and accessories would result in greater production and serve as better training for the youths.

There is no program for caring for a boy's needs in regard to sight, dental or hearing aids. Cottage leaders administer whatever medication is given. The hospital area has poor floor surfaces and unhealthy shower facilities.

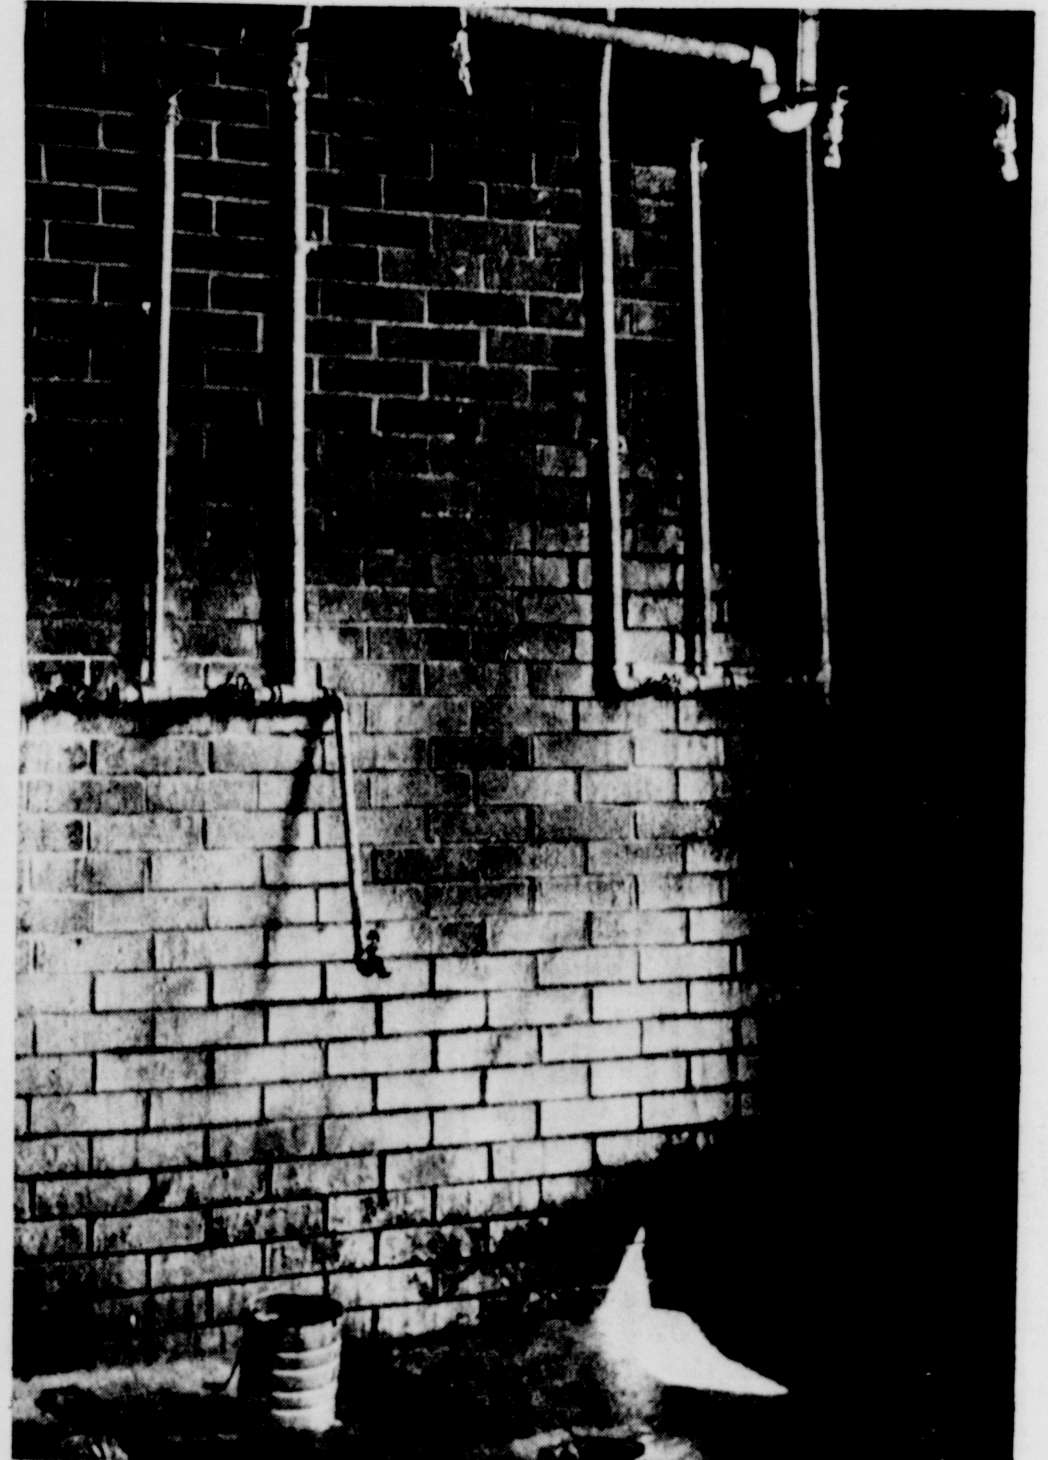

These and many more needs are listed in the lengthy report. The appalling fact is that no apparent progress has been made to correct any of the conditions or carry out the recommendations, according to Judge Walter G. Whitlatch of Cuyahoga County, a member of the advisory board.

Split Backboard Is Among Few Recreational Facilities.

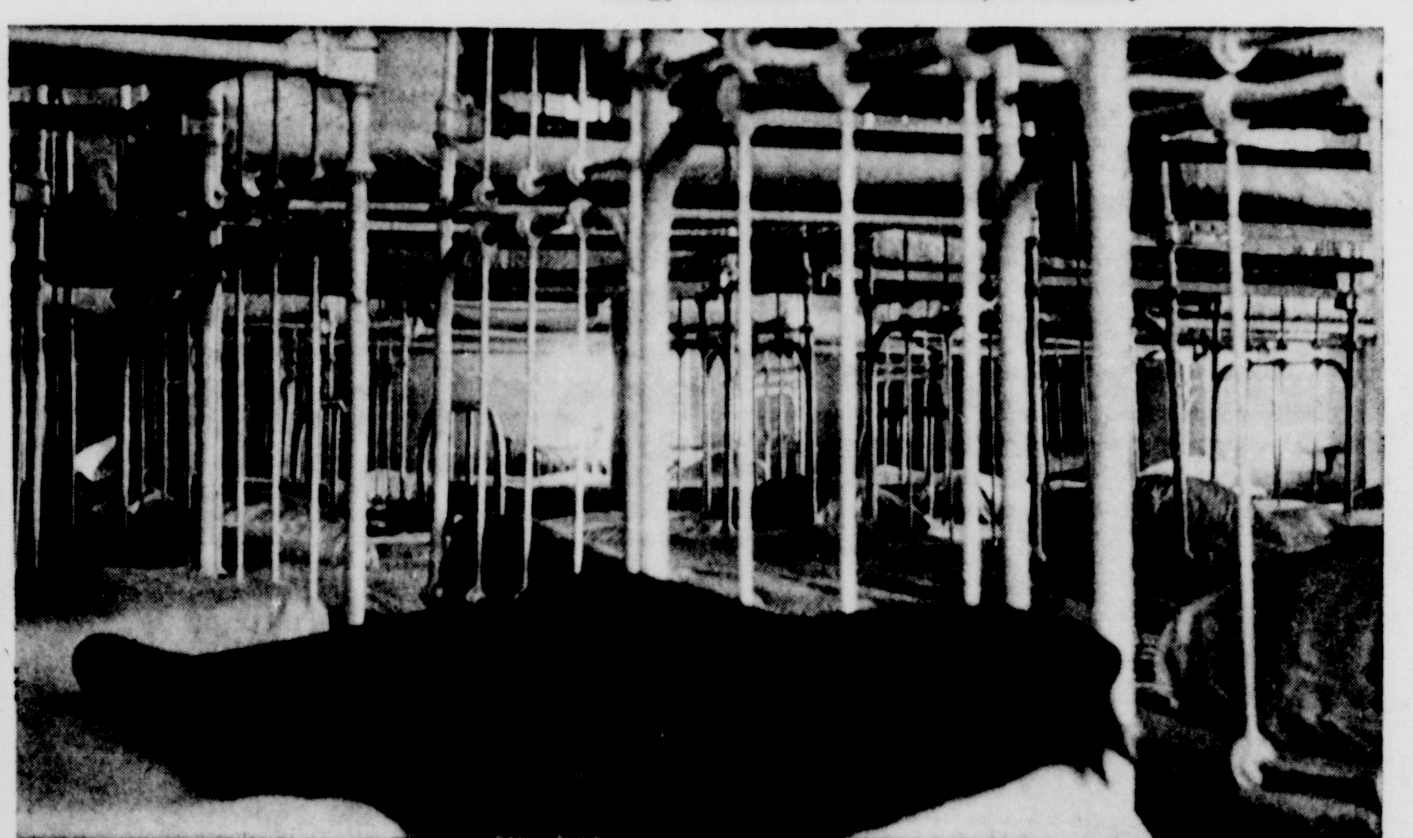

Youths At Boys Industrial School Line Up Before Old Buildings.

Dingy Showers Are Obsolete, Unsanitary.

Annual Homecoming Set Sunday

Dungannon Church Has Historic Past

FR. JAMES R. KOLP, pastor of St. Philip Neri Church, admires the chest of drawers on which the first Mass was celebrated in Northeastern Ohio in 1817.

By TOM BAKER

Among the notable examples of the legacy of history left in the Tri-State Area by early Americans is the beautiful St. Philip Neri's Catholic Church at Dungannon, the first organized congregation in northern Ohio.

The church, whose members will conduct the annual homecoming Sunday, is nestled in scenic hills 12 miles southwest of Lisbon. It was founded in 1817, the year that Abraham Lincoln celebrated his eighth birthday and the year that James Monroe became the fifth president of the United States.

THE CHURCH was founded when the Dominican Father, the Rev. Edward Fenwick, came from Pittsburgh to visit the some 15 Catholic families, most natives of Ireland, and celebrated the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for them. This first Mass was conducted for those few pioneers from a makeshift altar, a large chest of drawers, in a log cabin belonging to Daniel McAlister, about a mile east of the present church.

The old McAlister cabin is still standing and the chest of drawers from which the first Mass was celebrated still exists, enshrined in the church.

UNDER THE leadership of Fr. Fenwick, known as the Apostle of Ohio, a small brick church was built in 1820, next to the McAlister cabin, at the site of the present cemetery grounds. This was dedicated to St. Paul, and was used until 1849, when the congregation grew too large due to the influx of settlers following the opening of the Sandy and Beaver Canal.

A plot of land was donated by Philip Ehrhardt for the construction of a new and larger church. It, the present church, was completed and dedicated in 1849 as St. Philip Neri, by the Rev. Amadeus Rappe, the first Bishop of Cleveland.

In 1822, Fr. Fenwick became Bishop of Cincinnati, with the entire state of Ohio as his territory.

Probably the most outstanding pastor to serve at the church was the Rev. Eli Washington John Lindesmith. He was born in Columbiana County and was one of the first students to make his full course in the seminary which Bishop Rappe had set up to recruit workers for his young diocese. He was ordained in 1855.

BORN INTO a military family, he was commissioned a chaplain in the Army in 1880 and later was assigned to go among the Indians and establish missions.

He met with most of the noted Indian chieftains, including such notorious leaders as Rain-in-the-face, Spotted Eagle, Sitting Bull, Yellow Horse and Red, the half-blood who afterwards started a rebellion in Canada.

A large monument to Fr. Lindesmith stands in the church cemetery, a monument, or tombstone, which he designed and had set in place 20 years before his death. On the reverse side of the tombstone, the father had cast in bronze a plaque measuring some four feet square on which is recorded his family tree, dating back to his great-grandparents.

Evidence of his feelings as a professional soldier, as well as servant of God, is shown in the epitaph he wrote and had inscribed on the monument:

"Chaplain of the United States Regular Army — born Sept. 7, 1827, son of a volunteer soldier — grandson of a volunteer soldier — grandson of a soldier of the war of 1812 — grand nephew of two soldiers of the War of 1812 — great-grandson of a soldier of the war of Revolution of 1776". Fr. Lindesmith died Feb. 6, 1922, at the age of 94.

ANOTHER OF the distinguished pastors to serve the Dungannon church was the Rev. James Vincent Colan, the first priest to be ordained in the Cleveland diocese which was established in 1847.

The historic old church has proven to be quite a "tourist attraction". As an example, Fr. James R. Kolp, the present pastor, has collected the names of more than 600 persons in his guest register who have attended services at the church since April.

Considered as their home church by numerous area Catholics, many old acquaintances will be renewed as St. Philip Neri conducts its annual homecoming services Sunday during an 11 a.m. Mass.

ST. PHILIP NERI, about which M.S. Marchant wrote: "Dungannon Church is beautiful, 'tis seen clear from afar, it tops the hill with pointed spire, beneath each evening star."

Motor Club Recommendation
Tri-State Tour Tips

One-day or weekend tours have become increasingly popular with Tri-State Area motorists interested in historic, scenic or recreational sites in other parts of Ohio, West Virginia or Pennsylvania.

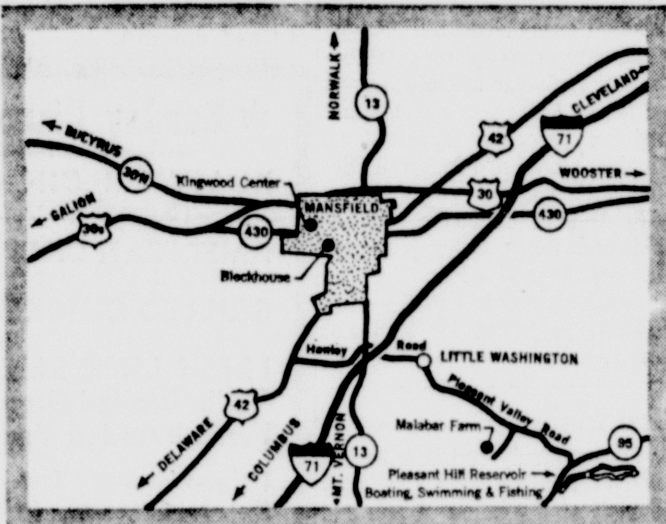

The Columbiana County Motor Club has a number of such planned trips which the club recommends, ranging from such wellknown tours to Gallipolis or Lake Erie to less familiar sites.

Among the notable visiting spots is the Mansfield area where Kingwood Center and Malabar Farm are top attractions.

Kingwood estate covers 47 acres of formal landscaped gardens and woodlands and includes Kingwood Hall, a French provincial mansion. The gardens offer one of the longest displays of tulips in the United States.

Also worth seeing in season are the daffodils, irises, peonies, roses, gladioli, dahlias, chrysanthemums, perennials, trees and shrubs. Gardens are open to sundown daily through the summer, the hall 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. weekdays, and 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. on Sunday; closed on Saturdays and holidays.

Malabar Farm, 12 miles southeast of Mansfield, was the home of the late Louis Bromfield, noted author, farmer and conservationist. It is one of the nation's largest private agricultural experiment stations. Nearby are the Doris Duke woods and nature trails for hikers.

Tours of Bromfield's residence, "The Big House," are conducted on the hour from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily through the summer, with wagon tours of the estate Sundays at 2:30 p. m. There is a $1 admission charge.

The year-round schedule of events at Kingwood, including dates when various varieties of flowers will be at their best, may be obtained by writing Kingwood Center, 900 Park Ave., West Mansfield. Schedule of events for Malabar are available by writing Louis Bromfield Malabar Foundation, Pleasant Valley, Lucas, Ohio.

Some six miles east of Mansfield good fishing and boating, plus excellent picnic facilities, are available in one of the Muskingum Conservancy projects.

The motor club recommends Route 30 for the trip.

Stamps
In The News

To honor the Jewish New Year 5725, the state of Israel has issued three new stamps. They depict beautiful ancient glassware from the collection of Dr. Walter Moses in the Museum Haaretz in Tel Aviv, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency in America. The Museum contains potter's glass objects dating back to 5,000 B.C.

Other new issues forthcoming from Israel honor the following: Sixth World Congress of the Israel Medical Association, African - Israel friendship, the Chess Olympics to be held in Israel, "Illegal" Immigration, Eleanor Roosevelt, the Zodiac and Antiquities in Israel.

The U.S. 5-cent commemorative stamp publicizing "Register and Vote," issued Aug. 1 in Washington, D. C., focused attention on the 40 million Americans of voting age who are not registered. The drive is being sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation with the cooperation of 86 public service organizations. The stamp reproduced the American flag in its true color.

The German Federal Republic has issued three new commemoratives honoring "Progress in Technology and Science," reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The 10-pennig brown, green and black shows the formula for benzene which was discovered in 1865 by August Friederich Kekule.

A 15-pennig green, blue, gray and black pays tribute to German scientists Hahn and Strassmann who succeeded in proving the possibility of splitting the atom. The 20-pennig, red, green and black hails the scientists who developed the gas power engine.

Opposition Crumbles
When 'Cookie' Twirls

In competition for the title of "Miss Majorette of America" last Saturday at the New York World's Fair, Miss Cookie Richards of Chester emerged as first runnerup, giving West Virginia, a winner in the event for the first time.

With a crowd of 2,500 looking on at the World's Fair Pavilion, the talented 15-year-old lass out-twirled and out-strutted the best of all but one entry from 29 states and Canada.

The winner was Judy Watson of Pensacola, Fla., but Cookie, although the youngest girl in competition, beat the rest, including 13 coeds from across the country.

Cookie, who was 15 in January, accumulated 55 of a possible 56 points in twirling, 53 of a possible 55 in beauty, and also came out well in the scoring for strutting.

She's a blue-eyed brunette, 5 feet, 6 inches, and was one of the most popular of the contestants, judging by the applause. Second runnerup was Judy Strecker of Colorado and third was Linda Gross of Ambler, Pa.

Miss Richards has accumulated a wide assortment of prizes and titles in baton twirling contests and as a 10-year-old, was praised for her dancing ability while studying under June Taylor in New York City.

She's been West Virginia state champion three years, Junior Miss Majorette for the past two years and is World Series national junior champion, national two-baton junior champion, national junior flag champion and national high aerial champion.

She was also a winner in the state's centennial talent contest and appeared on the Ted Mack Amateur Show last summer. In all, Cookie has won more than 350 awards and titles and swept first place trophies last summer.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Richards of State Route 2 near Chester. They moved from Weirton a month ago. Cookie was head majorette of the Weirton Junior High School Band the last three years.

Oak Glen High School will be her next educational center when she enrolls as a sophomore in the fall. Cookie's ambition is to twirl in front of a college band and to become a physical education teacher. She's in wide demand as an instructor in the art of twirling and keeps busy each summer competing in contests and instructing.

Cookie's father is employed at the Weirton Steel Co.

You And The Law

SIGNING LEGAL PAPERS

Maybe you wonder, too, whether to put a "Mr." or "Mrs." in front of your signature, or a "Jr." or "Sr." after it, when you sign your name on a legal document or a contract to buy something. Also, what about your middle name or initial?

It seems that under the common law for centuries back a legal name has consisted of one Christian (or given) name and one surname (or family name). The law presumes that every person has a given name, and a surname which must be stated in full on any legal document.

The law doesn't pay much attention to the middle name or initial, but it is wiser to use one or the other for exact identification. But you should be consistent. For example, Jim Jones was advised to sign all papers by his full name "James Aloysius Jones, Jr." to make it clear which of the James Joneses was buying that property.

While the law doesn't consider "Jr." or "Sr." a significant part of your name, use of such description titles helps distinguish you from namesakes.

As for "Mr." in front of your name, that's not important at all. The same is not always true with "Mrs.". If mother and daughter have the same name, it is wise to use either "Mrs." or "Miss" when signing important papers or when registering stocks or bonds.

When a woman marries, she takes her husband's family name. Her maiden surname is absolutely lost. Many women incorrectly use their husband's full name, and sign "Mrs. James A. Jones," for example. The correct way is for her to sign her own given name, and her husband's surname as Joan Marie Jones.

A divorced woman who wants to resume the use of her maiden name may have it returned to her by a court order, under some circumstances.

It is best for both men and women to write their "full handle" when signing important papers.

Spadea Designer Pattern

In this crisp suit, Harvey Berin sums up all the fashion news for summer with a head start on fall.

Over a wonderfully slim-but-easy paneled skirt, the jacket shapes up subtly, with every seam serving an important fitting purpose. A line of topstitching traces its lower edge which is set free below the slightly indented waistline. If things get really hot, the pretty hip-yoked blouse takes over and goes briefly sleeved and smartly on its cosmopolitan way.

Originally, the suit was shown in a mint basketweave silk and wool blend, the blouse a soft green and yellow silk print. Your choice might be linen, cotton tweed, wool crepe, flannel, tweed or double knit.

Recipes for this ideal summer meal, deliciously filling, were sent in by Mrs. Alberta Bates of Garner Ave.

Veal and Pork Hot Sandwich
1 lb. pork
1 lb. veal

Cook until meat is tender—save broth for gravy. Shred the meat and mix it with gravy. Use on large round buns.

Lemon and Pineapple Salad
2 box lemon Jello
2 can crushed pineapple No. 2 size
1/4 lb. miniature or chopped marshmallows
1 pt. whipping cream
1 large box vanilla wafers
1 cup sugar

Make Jello, add sugar. Let set slightly before adding the remainder of the ingredients. Stir in whipped cream.

Use rolling pin to crush wafers. Spread half on the bottom of a salad pan, then pour mixture and put rest of the wafers on the top. Set six to eight hours before serving.

Ever add a few drops of peppermint extract to a confectioner's sugar frosting for chocolate cookies? You can use two cups of the sugar and two or three tablespoons milk — just enough liquid to make a spreading consistency.

Votes Tallied For Township ASCS Groups

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers have elected 11 community committees to help administer the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service program.

Results of the by-mail election were announced here Friday afternoon by J. Glenn Bates, chairman of the county ASCS committee. Tallying of the 725 ballots took several hours.

Clifford Shaw of Lisbon, office manager, said the figure is a record and compares with 715 last year and 692 in 1962.

Community committees, like the county ASCS committee, are composed of five members — chairman, vice chairman, member, first alternate and second alternate.

The chairman of each committee — determined by the greatest number of votes—will be his community delegate to the county convention at 1:30 p.m. next Friday at the ASCS office in the Gallo Building. Delegates will elect the county ASCS committee which will organize at the first session in September.

Community committees follow:

Butler Township — Homer L. Altohouse, chairman; Lloyd K. Walton, vice chairman; Earl Bardo, member; Jay E. Denny, first alternate, and James A. Rhodes Jr., second alternate.

Center-Hanover — Ernest Moser, Harry A. Speidel, Carl M. Cross, Paul Zehentbauer and George H. Pollock.

Elkrun-Middleton — John H. Raley, John M. Manning, Dean E. Bowman, Stewart L. Dyke and Sidney I. Scroggs.

Fairfield — Floyd W. Albright, Herman G. Schwab, Carl K. Miller, Clark Z. Chamberlain and Homer E. Royer.

Franklin — Washington — Edwin R. Copeland, George J. McPherson, Orvan T. Carter, Howard H. McKarns and Elmer Lohman.

Knox — John W. Bandy, J. Herbert Hunter, Clarence M. Borton, Frederick Schoeni and Daryl Denny.

Liverpool-St. Clair — Yellow Creek — Robert H. Hickman, Carl Wollam, Lester N. Hickman, Kenneth Frischkorn and Charles E. Prince.

Madison-Wayne — Frank L. Woodrow, Ralph S. Cusick, Ray Laughlin, John Shaw and William C. Metts.

Perry-Salem — Clyde L. Farmer, Delbert L. Windle, Joseph Altohouse, Glenn L. Farrington and Milan A. John.

Unity — Carl M. Lipp, Glenn H. Wilhelm, Cecil M. Conkle, Cecil D. Beight and Joseph Papania.

West — Arthur R. Cowden, Earl Lee Haynam, John D. Geiselman, Robert W. Summer and William H. Merrick.

Dependency Of Crucible And Community Told

The mutual dependence of Crucible Steel Co. and the greater East Liverpool area was emphasized by M. D. Renwick, superintendent of labor relations at the Midland Works, in a talk to the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Speaking on "Crucible and Our Community," Renwick cited many statistics to illustrate the interdependence.

Quoting Walter Gregg, Crucible vice president, on the company's philosophy, Renwick said the firm is interested in more than just being a "corporate citizen," but is anxious to participate in ideas which can be mutually beneficial.

It is not anxious, Renwick explained, to push ideas in which plant communities are interested in themselves.

The greater East Liverpool area, which the speaker defined as including for statistical purposes all of Columbiana County and northern Hancock county, is the company's major labor source, Renwick continued.

Crucible has about 6,600 employees at the Midland Works, including 5,500 in production and maintenance. Over 3,200 of the production and maintenance personnel come from the immediate area with 2,000 from the city itself, he pointed out.

Within the last 60 days, about 150 permanent production and maintenance employees have been hired with about 80 from the city area, Renwick continued.

Crucible has a capital investment of $40,000 per employee at Midland and had a payroll in 1963 of $45,191,000 plus an additional $10 million in fringe benefits.

The fringe benefits included $2,097,000 for vacation pay and $1,062,000 for holiday pay.

Fringe benefits ran between 20 and 22 per cent of the payroll last year but are expected to be nearly 30 per cent this year because of the extended vacation plan, he explained.

Citing some of the improvements Crucible has made to its facilities, Renwick pointed to completion of a 56-inch hot strip mill at a cost of nearly $30 million, movement of the National Drawn plant from East End to the former Treadwell plant, the $10 million cold strip mill, a warehousing program and proposed installation of a continuous casting unit which was announced this week.

There were "lots of reasons" for moving the National Drawn division, the speaker said, but basically it was moved because the equipment and working procedures in the East End plant were archaic.

When started up again at the former Treadwell plant, National Drawn had 25 employees compared to 80 when located in East End. The unit costs have been reduced through "substantial technological improvements" and the plant now is operating around the clock with 88 employees.

A warehouse was installed recently in the Midland area, starting with five employees. It now has grown to 35 employees and more stock is being added "which will mean more jobs," Renwick said.

"Crucible recognizes its responsibility as a member of the East Liverpool community," he concluded, citing its increased participation in the Community Fund, Dollars for Scholars and other civic campaigns.

Renwick was introduced by Ralph Compa, program chairman.

Richard Martin, president, appointed Lloyd Gille as tail twister, replacing Robert Matthews, who resigned.

The club's annual picnic will be held Aug. 26 at Pavilion 3 in Thompson Park, Don Wolfe, chairman, said.

New Barn To Use Old Foundation

LISBON — A new dairy barn to be erected at the Columbiana County Home will be located on the foundation of the barn destroyed by fire May 25.

County commissioners will open construction bids Aug. 21. Copies of plans and specifications are available from Architect Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool, who also has proposed forms.

Commissioners were asking bids for furnishing and installing equipment in the barn. Those proposals are due by noon Aug. 28.

Insurance adjusters have not yet advised the county how much insurance will be paid on the loss. The county had a $47,500 policy on the barn and $15,000 protection on contents.

County home farmhands have been milking the dairy herd in an improvised "parlor" in the swine building.

A large shed of pole-type construction was built this summer to store hay and straw.

The new barn will not be as high as the old one but will cover about the same ground area. Little masonry work will be required since most of the old stone foundation can be used.

Youth Rides 25 Hours On Fair Ferris Wheel

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—Chuck Rodgers, 15, of nearby Botkins plans to try for a 48-hour ride on a ferris wheel at next year's Shelby County Fair. But until then, he would just as soon not see anymore of the wheels.

Rodgers completed a 25 hour, 5 minute ride on the fair's wheel Friday. Jerry Hudson, 15, of Jackson Center rode with him part of the way as they sipped drinks and ate hamburgers.

2 Blazes Hit Struck Plant

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two fires were started early today at the strikebound Raymond Bag Co. plant here but neither blaze caused serious damage.

Police said one fire was started on the roof of a company building and the other in some shrubbery. Officers also reported some windows were smashed by persons using slingshots. There were no arrests but the investigation was continuing.

The incidents followed by less than a day a temporary injunction limiting pickets at the plant to 10. The injunction was issued Friday in Butler County Common Pleas Court.

Judge John W. Kiracofe also restrained Local 310 of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Workers from intimidating and interfering with people trying to enter or leave the plant.

Some 260 members of the union went on strike July 21 in a dispute over work rules and there have been several reports of violence at the picket lines, especially in the last few days. Two men were arrested Friday for throwing stones at a bus leaving the plant.

Rockefeller Sets New Effort For GOP Moderation

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is going to make another attempt to steer Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater toward a more "moderate" policy line, sources close to Rockefeller say.

The governor is withholding any commitment to campaign personally for the Goldwater-Miller ticket, either within or outside New York State.

Rockefeller's public position, a spokesman said Friday, is that he is standing by his oft-repeated pledge to support the party's national ticket.

The word "support" cannot, however, be translated into campaign speaking appearances in behalf of Goldwater, said Rockefeller's press secretary, Robert L. McManus. He said Rockefeller had no such plans at this time.

Sources close to the governor said Rockefeller would await the outcome of next Wednesday's GOP "unity conference" at Hershey, Pa., before deciding what role to take in the presidential campaign.

The sources said Rockefeller was withholding a statement on his personal plans in order to use it as a bargaining device at Hershey. His object will be to persuade Goldwater to take a more moderate approach during the campaign, it was said.

Goldwater invited Republican governors and gubernatorial candidates to the meeting to promote party unity behind his candidacy.

Traffic Suits Ask $152,000

LISBON — A New Waterford man is suing a Youngstown truck driver and the truck owner for a total of $152,000 as the result of a motorcycle-truck collision June 18, 1963.

Lloyd D. Townsend of New Waterford R.D. 1 filed companion suits Friday in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court for himself and son, Daniel, 13, who was riding behind him on the cycle.

Townsend said he was driving south on Route 7 when a northbound truck proceeded to turn west into Township Road 857 near Middleton. The cycle hit the side of the truck.

Townsend, an assembler mechanic for E. W. Bliss Co., says he was unable to return to work until June 1 this year. The son was injured less severely.

In each case, Townsend seeks $75,000 for himself and $1,000 for the boy.

The defendants are Richard F. Fitzwilliams and Al - Mar Supplies, Inc., Youngstown.

Troubles Come In Many Ways, Youth Discovers

NAPOLEON, Mich. (AP) — Gary Ellis, 19, says it just wasn't his day.

He was driving his sister's 1956 model car when the auto frame broke. He tied it together with a rope.

Then the rear end of the car shifted sideways and the drive shaft fell out of its housing, but the roped-together frame held.

A neighbor in another car, began pulling Gary's auto. Gary's right rear tire went flat. The spare was flat, too, so the trip continued. The flat tire came off the wheel.

The wheel threw sparks from the highway that set five grass fires. The Napoleon Fire Department extinguished the blazes.

Gary, who finally made it home, said "I think we'll keep the car and just stare at it — like a relic."

Youth Faces Murder Trial In Beer Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lee Arthur Henley, 18, faces trial for first degree murder for shooting a store clerk who would not sell him 6 per cent beer.

Henley was indicted on the charge Friday. Police say he tried to buy the beer at a suburban grocery June 27, but was refused by Peter Mazes Jr., 37, assistant manager of the store. The youth came back later and shot Mazes, officers said.

Calcutta Girl Cited In Route 170 Crash

Shirley Pennybaker, 20, of R. D. 3 was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way after a two-car collision Friday at 4:25 p.m. on Route 170 in Calcutta. The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said she drove from the parking lot of a hardware store into the path of another car operated by Jacqueline Mitcheson, 33, also of R.D. 3. Minor damage resulted to both cars, officers said.

Mira Shines Despite Bears 28-17 Win Over All-Stars

Chicago Rallies On Wade's Arm

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The victorious Chicago Bears missed Willie Gallimore and the scrappy collegians discovered the "Graham Cracker" too late in Friday night's 31st All-Star game.

The champion Bears of the National Football League, trailing 10-7 at halftime, rode to a 28-17 triumph mainly on the reliable passing arm of veteran quarterback Bill Wade.

But the big thrill for a Soldier Field crowd of 65,000 came in the final quarter as Coach Otto Graham used two quarterbacks simultaneously — Southern California's Pete Beathard and will-o'-the-wisp George Mira of Miami (Fla.).

With Beathard as main ball handler and Mira as a lonesome halfback, the Graham maneuver produced a lively finish just as the game seemed to bog down after the Bears muscled to a 28-10 lead.

Mira kept taking flat passes from Beathard and either scrambled for yardage or flipped passes from his wide vantage point.

With 26 seconds of the game left, Mira rifled a five-yard touchdown pass to another brilliant All-Star performer, halfback Charley Taylor of Arizona State.

It took the Bears quite a while to build up steam in their attack which was outpounded on the ground by the All-Stars 187 yards to 94.

Ron Bull, who must carry the NFL load at the halfback spot he shared with the late Gallimore, carried nine times for 35 yards, top Bear rushing effort.

Gallimore and end John Farrington were killed in an auto crash 14 days ago. Last night's game was preceded by a moment of silence in memory of the two.

On the other hand, the scampering Mira rambled 56 yards on four carries and two other

All-Stars — Taylor and his Arizona State teammate Tony Loric, also bettered Bull's yardage.

Taylor, who was a one-man gang himself, carried seven times for 36 yards and Loric punched 38 yards on six tries.

Early in the second quarter, the fleet Taylor — headed for the Washington Redskins — streaked for a 29-yard gain on a Beathard pass that set up a 14-yard field goal by Ohio State's Dick Van Raaphorst for a 3-0 All-Star lead.

Later in the second quarter, Taylor recovered a Bear fumble on the Bear 18. Two plays later, he took a pitchout from Mira and hurled a 14-yard touchdown pass to Georgia Tech end Ted Davis for a 10-7 All-Star lead at halftime.

And it was Taylor scoring himself on a five-yard shot from Mira just before the game ended.

Mira, signed with the San Francisco 49ers, began entrenching himself as darling of the huge crowd late in the third quarter. He popped a dozen passes, completing six for 48 yards, to lead the All-Stars on a vain 75-yard march to the Bear four.

The eventual difference was pro savvy and the marksmanship of Wade, who completed 15 of 23 passes for 217 yards, including a 13-yard scoring shot to Mike Ditka in the second quarter and a 20-yard touchdown flip to Gary Barnes in the third quarter for a 21-10 Bear lead.

Wade also scored on a one-foot sneak to move the Bears ahead 14-10 in the third period after pumping pass-after-pass, including a 38-yarder to Johnny Morris, in an 80-yard payoff drive. Sub Rudy Bukich looped a 30-yard TD pass to Charley Bivins for the final Bear score.

The Bear triumph gave the pros a 20-9 victory edge with two ties in the All-Star series.

Walker Selected To Pitch Opening Game At Charlotte

Manager Dick Vocia has named Len Walker, the strong righthander, as the starting pitcher when the East Liverpool Colt League All-Stars open their bid for a Divisional championship Monday night at Charlotte, N. C.

East Liverpool will meet the Charlotte-Mecklenburg All-Stars Monday at 6 p. m. at the 3,000-seat Charlotte Colt Field.

Walker went all the way in his only tournament start last week defeating the Eastern Ohio All-Stars, 2-1, on a five-hit performance.

He made a relief appearance in Sunday's championship game and blanked Pittsburgh for the last two innings as East Liverpool won the Regional title.

Six teams are entered in the Divisional tournament in the North Carolina city including another team from Charlotte, one from Bridgeport, Conn. and two others who were not known but one was expected from the New Jersey area and the other from Columbia, S. C.

The Charlotte City All-Stars are the National defending champs and appear the team to beat in the Divisional play.

Fifteen players and two alternates will make the trip to Charlotte along with Dick Vocia, manager and Ed Vocia, coach.

The team will leave Sunday at 7:30 a. m. from the Community Parking Lot and make the trip in private cars. East Liverpool will stay at the Orvin Motel in Charlotte.

Ex-Met Drives In 2 Runs

Thomas Helps Phils Boost Lead

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Frank Thomas is a slow-footed, 35-year-old Met castoff with a future as rosy as his new red pinstripes.

The veteran of 11 seasons with National League also-rans finally may be ticketed for a World Series paycheck and the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies, who spirited Thomas — via a Friday afternoon waiver deal — from the lowly Mets, may have bought themselves some pennant insurance.

Thomas helped his new club to a 9-4 victory over his old mates Friday night — only hours after the Phils acquired his contract in exchange for three minor leaguers. He drove in two runs with a double and single, then started a double play from first base as the Phils padded their NL lead to 2½ games over runner-up San Francisco.

The big right-handed slugger played previously for Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Milwaukee and has hit 275 career home runs. But he has never been with a pennant winner and has been with a last place club in 12 of his 17 major and minor league seasons.

Cincinnati's Jim Maloney and Bill McCool struck out 15 and handcuffed the Giants 5-3, pulling the third place Reds within striking distance of the losers. St. Louis' Curt Simmons blanked Houston 4-0; The Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Milwaukee 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 7-3 and 4-3.

The Phils, notoriously weak thus far against left-handed pitching, sought Thomas' bat as added punch against southpaws.

The Mets fought back for a 4-4 tie on Roy McMillan's two-run single in the fourth and Joe Christopher's two-run homer in the fifth but the Phils broke loose for four runs in the seventh to sew it up.

Maloney fanned 12 Giants in six innings before his arm tightened up. McCool finished up, striking out three but giving up two runs, including Jim Hart's 19th homer. Frank Robinson led the Reds' attack with a solo homer, a run-scoring double and a single. Orlando Cepeda singled, doubled and homered for the Giants.

Simmons stopped the Colts on five singles for his 33rd career shutout and 12th 1964 victory. Bill White's 15th homer, a two-run single by Lou Brock and three hits by Tim Lincecum paced the Cardinals' third straight victory.

Milwaukee starter Hank Fischer failed to survive the opening inning for the second night in a row as the Dodgers scored all their runs in the first. Two-run doubles by Ron Fairly and Nate Oliver were the big blows. Tommy Davis' first-inning single stretched his batting streak to 19 straight games and

Play Continues In Tennis Here

The fifth annual tennis tournament of the East Liverpool Lions Club continues today at Thompson Park after opening round matches Friday marked by a victory by a local entry.

Art Turner Jr. emerged as the lone victorious local entry by defeating Ron Dietzel of Youngstown, 6-3, 6-2.

In other matches, Tim Archer of East Liverpool lost to John Garver of Youngstown, 6-0, 6-1, and Laurin Stacey of East Liverpool bowed to Jim Ogden of Youngstown, 6-0, 6-1.

Rick Fine of Youngstown advanced over Matt Mathieson of New Castle, 6-1, 6-4.

Singles competition continued this morning at 9 and doubles play is scheduled to begin this afternoon at 3.

The favored doubles team is Bob Thompson, tennis coach at Youngstown University, and Bob Bennett of Pittsburgh, rated the No. 1 player in Western Pennsylvania and a student at Youngstown.

Turner and Archer are paired in the doubles, while Stacey also will enter with a partner not yet determined.

Trophies will be presented to the winners in singles and doubles when the firing subsides Sunday night. Jack Smith is tourney chairman.

Phil Ortega, with ninth inning help from Bob Miller, won his first game since May 19.

Ron Santo went 5-for-9 in the Cubs' doubleheader victory over the Pirates. He clubbed his 21st home run, with a man on, in the opener, won by Larry Jackson, 14-10, and had three hits and two RBI behind Ernie Broglio, 6-9, in the nightcap.

Bobby Shantz finished for Broglio, who gave up solo homers to Jerry Lynch, Manny Mota and Bob Bailey, the last two in the ninth. Andre Rodgers singled home what turned out to be the winning run in the top of the ninth.

Wright Hurls South Siders' Playoff Win

Ace righthander Bill Wright rang up 13 strikeouts and allowed only three hits to hurl South Side past the Dentists, 4-1, to square their playoff series at one game each Friday in the Colt League.

The squads return to action today at 5:30 p.m. with the winner to play the Realtors a best of five games series for the Colt League championship.

Wright bested Bill Smith of the Dentists, but Smith was plenty sharp. He allowed South Side only three hits while fanning three, with Burkhardt coming in on relief.

Moore got two hits for the Dentists, and Burkhardt got the other. Luther, Ashcroft and Campbell got hits for South Side.

Lose In Regional For Second Time

Ending an unsuccessful bid to defend their regional title, East Liverpool's Pony League All-Stars were eliminated from the regional tournament Friday night at Springdale, Pa.

The locals absorbed a 7-2 defeat to bow out of the double basement. Manager Ray Flint Jr.'s locals missed opportunity time and again to get in contention in leaving runners stranded on the base paths.

Mike Caruso started for East Liverpool, going more than five innings. He fanned eight and did not walk any. Bill Montgomery wrapped up the game in relief.

Bobby Bartram was the only East Liverpool batter to get two hits, and both were singles. Rex Campbell came through with a double.

Behind by six runs in the last inning, East Liverpool got three runners on base but the rally ended when Dudik fanned two batters and got the third to ground out to the infield.

Peduzzi Hired As Grid Aide For Midland

Ray Peduzzi, who was assistant varsity football coach for seven years at East Liverpool until his resignation in May, has been hired as assistant grid coach at Midland High School.

The former Potter aide will serve as assistant under new Midland Coach Joe Cochran.

Peduzzi, 30, will also teach driver's education in his new post, and in addition will be assistant coach of the track team. At East Liverpool, he served under Lou Venditti for four years, and on the staff of Bob Hedmond for three seasons. His resignation here touched off a wave of departures that swept up most of the Potter coaching staff of last year. Hedmond went to Steubenville Big Red as an assistant.

Peduzzi, who has two sons, plans to maintain his residence on Globe St. in East Liverpool.

Manager Al Dark of the San Francisco Giants never played in the minor leagues. After his career at LSU he played for the 1946 Boston Braves.

Colt Leaguers Slate Trip Sunday At 7:30

East Liverpool's Colt League All-Stars will assemble at the Community Parking Lot Sunday morning at 7:30 to start the trip to Charlotte, N. C., for the Divisional Colt Tournament opening Monday.

The players will travel in private cars donated by Mike Turk, Inc., Mangano's Central Service, Arb Motors in East End and Litten Motor Sales, Atty. Don E. Smith, league president, announced.

East Liverpool is slated to play Monday night at 6 against the Charlotte-Mecklenburg All-Stars. Fifteen players and two alternates will make the trip.

Rookie second baseman Bob Knoop of the Los Angeles Angels has played with nine minor league clubs. He began with Leesburg, Fla., in 1956.

Baltimore Gains 1st Place In Win

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Barber is not having one of his great years, but he has just won permanent possession of Jim Bouton.

Since Bouton pitches for the New York Yankees, he makes a splendid addition to the Barber trophy room.

Barber turned the trick over Bouton for the third time this season Friday night, as the Baltimore Orioles drew first blood in the big flag fortnight in the American League.

The score was 2-0 for the Birds, and the victory put them in first place, a full game ahead of the Yankees. The Chicago White Sox snapped a three game losing streak with a 2-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox and remained 1½ games behind Baltimore, in third place.

In the next two weeks the Yankees play the Orioles and the White Sox seven more times each — and then the New Yorkers won't see either team again this year.

In other American League games, the Cleveland Indians won a doubleheader from the Minnesota Twins, 10-4 and 8-2. Detroit beat Kansas City 5-2 and the Washington Senators squeaked past the Los Angeles Angels, 4-3.

Barber needed relief from veteran Harvey Haddix, but still managed his third straight over the Yankees and Bouton in the big game at Yankee Stadium.

It was Barber's seventh victory of the year, against eight defeats.

Ray Herbert, who lost a month this season on the disabled list, won his fifth game for the White Sox and limited the Red Sox to five hits. He also drove in both the Chicago runs.

Phil Regan scattered eight hits for the Detroit victory. Gates Brown homered for the Tigers in the second inning and George Thomas and Bill Freehan hit back-to-back homers in the eighth.

The sweep for the Indians gave them eight victories in their last 10 games. Woodie Held and Joe Azcue hit two-run homers in the first game, and rookie Luis Tiant checked the Twins on five hits. It gave Tiant a 4-1 record since he came up from the minors.

Tony Oliva and Earl Battey homered for the Twins in the opener.

Larry Brown drove in three Cleveland runs with two singles in the second game, and Jimmy Hall hit a homer for the slug-ging Twins.

The Senators had a close call at Los Angeles. Claude Osteen rolled into the ninth inning with a 4-0 lead and seemed on his way to a shutout, only the second for the Senators' all year. Then the roof caved in.

Jim Fregosi walked, Joe Adcock blooped a single to right, and the runners moved up on a wild pitch. Ron Kline relieved Osteen and Bob Rodgers drove two runs in with a single. But Kline got Vic Power to hit into a double play, as the third run scored, and Lennie Green grounded out to end the inning.

Osteen drove in the first Washington run. Don Zimmer added a homer and Chuck Hinton sent the last two runs over with an eighth inning single.

7 Exhibitions Slated

Weekend's Games May Provide Pro Grid Clues

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Can the Green Bay Packers, with star Paul Hornung back in action, regain the National Football League championship? Can the San Diego Chargers repeat as American League champions?

Will the Philadelphia Eagles and the Washington Redskins improve in the NFL after their numerous trades? Will the Kansas City Chiefs, 1962 champs, but an also ran in 1963, again be a title contender in the AFL?

Clues that may provide the answers to these questions will be forthcoming this weekend as the pro football exhibition season opens with games at New Orleans, Hershey, Pa., Charlotte, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Minneapolis, Tampa, San Diego, Boston and Oakland, Calif. Seven of the games are scheduled tonight, three Sunday afternoon.

The Chicago Bears, NFL champions, provided the ceremonial kickoff Friday night with a 28-17 victory over the College All-Stars at Soldier Field in Chicago.

Hornung, whose hard running sparked Green Bay to NFL tities in 1961 and 1962 before his year's suspension for betting on games, will perform at New Orleans against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight.

Alex Karras, star Detroit line-man suspended at the same time as Hornung, also will return to competition tonight with the Lions against the revamped Redskins at Charlotte.

The Eagles, who traded away Sonny Jurgensen and Tommy McDonald among others, field a virtual new team against the Baltimore Colts at Hershey.

In the other NFL games tonight the New York Giants, Eastern Conference champs, are at Minnesota and the Dallas Cowboys at Los Angeles. On Sunday the Cleveland Browns play at San Francisco.

San Diego, beaten only once in 17 exhibition games in four years, entertain the Denver Broncos tonight, the team that inflicted the Chargers' lone exhibition defeat. In another AFL game tonight the New York Jets and the Buffalo Bills clash at Tampa, Fla.

Two Sunday games, Kansas City at Oakland and Houston at Boston, round out the AFL schedule.

Patrol Ordered To Crack Down On Enforcement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Col. Anson B. Cook, Ohio Highway Patrol superintendent, alarmed over the continuing rise in traffic accidents, restated today his order to highway patrolmen to step up enforcement of traffic laws.

Cook said he was concerned about the accident Thursday night in Fayette County which took eight lives. He pointed out that two resident patrolmen are being assigned to Fayette County and will assume their posts Aug. 17.

Col. Cook said arrests are up more than 36 per cent. He said highway patrolmen arrested more than 5,000 traffic violators in July this year than they did in July of 1963.

Clawing Of 2 Horses

Revives Panther Story

CANTON — Injury to two thoroughbred Tennessee walking horses at the Rhonda Horse Farm near Minerva has revived fears that a panther is wandering the Minerva area.

There have been periodic reports for the last five years that a black panther was seen in the area, but they have been discounted by authorities.

Dr. Donald Kelch, a Carrollton veterinarian, was called to the Rhonda farm Thursday to treat two horses for large claw marks on their hind quarters. He said the marks were about an inch apart, indicating they were inflicted by an animal with a large paw.

3 Killed In Turnpike

Crash Near Norwalk

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—A collision between two autos killed three members of a Warren family and injured another person Friday night on the Ohio Turnpike four miles west of the Norwalk-Sandusky interchange.

Dead are Angelo Iannucci, 43, his wife, Esther, 40, and a son, Michael, 9. Injured was Helen Hackett, 56, of Dearborn, Mich.

The Highway Patrol said the Hackett woman's eastbound auto apparently went out of control crossed the medial strip and smashed into the side of Iannucci's westbound car.

Union Calls Off Slated

Rail Walkout In Italy

ROME (AP)—The threat of a three-day railroad strike has ended in an apparent victory for the new government of premier Aldo Moro.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Italian Labor Friday night called off its scheduled strike set for Aug. 8-10. It said an agreement, also supported by non-Communist unions, had been reached on workers' demands for higher fringe benefits.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Is there any way I can keep the blades of my kitchen paring knives in a sharper condition for a longer time?

A. — One way to do this is by keeping your knives in a special holder away from hard contact with other metal. And if you can fill the holder with sand, it will tend to sharpen the cutting edges and keep the blades apart from one another. Such a holder can be made by slitting the top of a baking-powder can for insertion of the blades. You can decorate this container with attractive decals, if you wish.

Q. — What can I do if, while putting on a dress, I have gotten some lipstick on it?

A. — Use a little rubbing alcohol on the stain, going over it gently with a bit of clean cloth. And in the future, avoid such a calamity by holding a clean tissue between your lips as you slip the dress over your head.

Q. — Some of the plastered walls in my new home are turning to powder. What causes this, and what can I do about it?

A. — Usually this is due to the application of the plaster in a dry, hot room, which has caused it to dry out before it has set. To remedy this condition, try a gentle water spray on the walls with an insecticide gun.

Q. — How can I cause cornmeal mush to fry a nice brown?

A. — By adding a tablespoon of sugar and two tablespoons of milk.

Q. — How can I clean black or colored felt hats?

A. One good way is to rub over them with a piece of stale rye bread.

Junior Editors Quiz on WAXES

QUESTION: Why does shoe polish shine your shoes?

ANSWER: The idea of a glossy wax coating is one borrowed from nature, for most plants, fruits and flowers are covered with a waxy shield, which keeps moisture from escaping. Wax is not easily affected by either water or air, and so it protects things as well as giving luster. Wax shines your shoes and makes them more lasting. Nature gives us a number of sources for this valuable material, wax, some of which we show. From the wool of sheep comes lanolin, or wool wax, which is used as a basic material in many shoe polishes, and as a dressing for leather goods. Beeswax, paraffin from petroleum, and the wax coating from palm leaves are other important sources of commercial waxes. Of these, the last is the hardest and the most brilliant, the wax from the carnauba palm of Brazil being the best of all, and so it is often used in shoe polish. Dye is also put in shoe polish to prevent scuffs and scratches from showing. After application, the "vehicle" in which wax is mixed evaporates. Then the wax film can be made brilliant by the friction of polishing.

FOR YOU TO DO: Make your brand new shoes last longer by giving them a good polishing before you even wear them. This will also prevent dirt from getting a grip on the clean leather and will result in finer shines later on.

Ralph Haywood of Youngstown, Ohio, wins this week's grand prize of a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Man Charged 70 Attend Reunion Of White Family At New Waterford

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — A slightly built, nervous ex-soldier has been charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of two young daughters of an Illinois Circuit Court judge.

Andrew Pixley, 21, entered no plea and twiddled his fingers when he appeared barefoot in Justice Court Friday on a charge of slaying Debby and Cindy McAuliffe, 12- and 8-year-old Maywood, Ill., girls, while they lay in their beds at a Jackson hotel.

Pixley was bound over to District Court without bond.

The two girls were raped and strangled early Friday morning while their sister, Susan, 6, slept nearby. Susan was not harmed.

County attorney Floyd King said Pixley was barefoot and shirtless when caught in the girls' room by their father, Circuit Court Judge Robert McAuliffe. McAuliffe and his wife were watching a floor show on the main floor of the hotel when he heard a commotion and screaming in the girls' room. He dashed upstairs and found Debby and Cindy dead. Pixley was lying on the floor. McAuliffe held the man until officers arrived.

At the preliminary hearing, Jackson policeman James Jensen said a rock about 3½ inches in diameter was found in the hotel room. King said the older girl apparently had been struck with the rock. Although the younger girl was strangled, King said there was no evidence she had been beaten.

Sheriff's officers said there was no apparent reason why the swarthy, dark-haired Pixley had his shoes off. His shoes were not found.

The McAuliffe family had been motoring through the West on a five-week vacation trip. They had been in Jackson two or three days.

6 Of 12 Autoists Given Hearings

Isenschmidt, 20, Hanoverton R.D. 1, defective muffler, $5 and costs; Chris Chengelis, 48, Youngstown, speeding, $5 and costs; Charles T. Gallaher, 23, Lisbon R.D. 2, same, same; Lawrence E. Casner, 37, Akron, same, same (fine suspended); Larry G. Adkins, 25, Rogers R.D. 1, operating motor vehicle without registration, $6.50 costs only.

Forfeiting $15 appearance bonds on speeding charges were Pete Semics, 52, Lisbon R.D. 4; William Smith Jr., 39, Salineville; David Moore, 19, Wintersville; Robert G. Cooper, 59, Warren, and Kenneth B. Rich, 26, Akron.

Blake E. Becker, 54, Reynolds, Pa., charged with driving an unsafe vehicle, forfeited $15 bond.

Seventy attended the 16th annual reunion of the John R. White family Sunday at the Mill Pic Park in New Waterford.

Recognition was given Henry White, the oldest family member present, Allen Wade Sam-ber, 2, the youngest.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bistor of Antwerp, Ohio, traveled the farthest.

Mrs. John Bostor gave grace. A business meeting followed with Sidney Cowan, president, presiding. Minutes were read by Mrs. Darline Shaffer and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Ila Flemming.

It was voted to retain last year's officers for 1965. They are Cowan, president, Frank Burns, vice president; Mrs. Shaffer, secretary, and Mrs. Flemming, treasurer. Sam Scragg was chosen chairman of the sports committee, with Charles Click and Gary Cowan.

A table committee headed by Mrs. Zelma Davis was also designated. Other members are Mrs. Kathryn Evans, Mrs. Virginia Cowan, Mrs. Natalie Cowan and Mrs. Fawn Smith.

The annual auction was conducted by Mrs. Gladys Smith. Children participated in games and races in the afternoon. Ice cream and cake was served.

Mill Pic Park will be the scene of the 1965 reunion Aug. 1.
